SAMPSON LOW, MARSTON & CO.'S

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

THE SECOND NORTH GERMAN POLAR

EXPEDITION, in the Year 1869-70, of the ships Germania and Hansa, under the command of Captain Koldewey. Edited and condensed by H. W. BATES, Esq., of the Royal Geographical Society, and Translated by LOUIS MERCIER, M.A. (Oxon). Royal 8vo, with numerous Woodcuts, Maps, and Chromo-Lithographs, cloth extra, 35s. [Now ready.]

The narrative portion of this important Work is full of interest and extraordinary adventure in the ice-fields; and, in addition to much matter of great scientific value, gives a graphic account of the hardships and sufferings of the crew of the Hansa, after the crushing of that ship in the ice.

A HISTORY of MERCHANT SHIPPING and ANCIENT COMMERCE. By W. S. LINDSAY. 4 vols.
Vols. I. and II. demy 8vo, each 21s. [Now ready.]

PREFACE.

"Although familiar with most subjects relating to merchant ships, I have found it alike necessary and desirable to look to others for aid in collecting some of the materials for this work; and I am especially indebted to my friends, Mr. Vaux, F.R.S., late of the British Museum, and Sir Patrick Colquhoun, Q.C., for much valuable assistance rendered by them in connexion with the two volumes now presented to the public. By combining the learning of my friends, so far as regards the records of the ships and commerce of ancient times, with my own knowledge of the subject, I am not without hope that the work may in some respects prove useful.

"I am also much indebted to Mr. T. H. Farrer, of the Board of Trade, and to his assistant, Mr. Thomas Gray, of the Marine Department, for many valuable suggestions; and in thanking them for their courtesy, I venture to express the belief that, by their assistance and that of other friends, I shall be able to give in the two succeeding volumes necessary to complete the work an impartial narrative of the many important events and changes which have occurred within my own time, I might say within my own experience, together with an accurate account of the ships and maritime commerce of the age in which we live.

"W. S. LINDSAY, Shepperton Manor, Middlesex."

THE PICTURE GALLERY. Containing Thirty-eight Permanent Photographs after the Works of the most popular Artists. The New Volume is now ready, large 4to, cloth of KHIVA. By J. A. MAC GAHAN. With Map and numerous Illustrations. Demy 8vo, cloth extra, 15s. [Now ready.]

"A book more freshly written, and with more interesting matter, both general and personal, is seldom to be found." - Athenæum.
"We part from Mr. Mac Gahan with the hope that we may meet again, and we can never desire to travel in better company." - Last words of a review occupying nearly eight columns of the Times.

THE MAMBI LAND; or, Adventures of a Herald Correspondent in Cuba. By J. J. O'KELLY. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 9s. [Now ready.]

THE MARVELLOUS COUNTRY; or, Three Years in Arizona and New Mexico, the Apaches' Home. Compresented a Description of this Wonderful Country, its Immense Mineral Wealth, its Magnificent Mountain Scenery, the Ruins of Ancient Towns and Cities found therein; the whole interspersed with strange Events and Adventures. By SAMUEL WOODWORTH COZZENS. Demy 8vo, illustrated by upwards of One Hundred Engravings, cloth extra, 15s. [Now ready.]

"We can warmly recommend to those of our readers who are in search of a non-scientific and non-political book of travels, and who are longing for a story of mere wild adventure, 'The Marvellous Country,' by Mr. S. W. Cozzens." - Athenæum.

A FLOATING CITY and the BLOCKADE RUNNERS. By JULES VERNE. Square crown 8vo, with about 50 very fine Full-page Illustrations, cloth, gilt edges, 7s. 6d.
[Ready this day.]

Tyson's Wonderful Drift on the Ice-Floe, a History of the Polaris Expedition, the Cruise of the Tigress, and Rescue of the Polaris Survivors. To which is added a General Arctic Chronology.
Edited by E. VALE BLAKE. 8vo, with Map and numerous Illustrations, cloth, 5s.

NIMROD OF THE SEA.

NIMROD OF THE SEA; or, the American Whaleman. By WILLIAM M. DAVIS. Post 8vo, with many Illustrations, cloth, 10s. 6d.

"We know not how much of this volume before the author intends us to believe, or how many of the illustrations are given as representing real incidents. The author is supposed to be a Pennsylvanian, with an indomitable passion for adventure, and certainly he was so far credited that he might fairly speak of himself as the Mayne Reid of the waters, the Jules Girard of the harpoon. There is no conceivable shape of danger in the whaling world that he has not confronted. If the author designed to compile from different authorities an amusing narrative of thrilling exploits and halfbreath escapades, he has eminently succeeded; for there is no pause in the narrative, except when he interrupts himself to give practical details--none of them dull, however concerning the whale fishery, the most exciting and perilous of all human occupations, except war. For the sake of the incessant vivacity of the book its obvious exaggerations may be pardoned, and it may be recommended to the young as better than most of the romances oftentimes compiled for their instruction. One merit is that the colouring, whether local or not, is made to appear so, while the sailors' yarns before the mast are humorous in their extravagance. Altogether, as a picture of wild life at sea, 'The American Whaleman' is a bright book, sure to be sought for when holiday-time comes round again.

THE HISTORY of INDIA, from the Earliest Ages. By J. TALBOYS WHEELER, Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of British Burma, Vol. III.—Hindu-Buddhist—Brahmanical Revival. Demy 8vo, pp. 524, with 2 maps, cloth, 18s.

"The above volume forms also a complete work in itself, and may be had with separate title, as 'The History of India: Hindu, Buddhist, and Brahmanical.'"
"The volume, just out in India, is a calm philosophic narrative or digest of Indian history as a whole. I can answer for myself that, busy and unquiet as I have been, with scarcely a resting-place for the sole of my foot, I have by some means or other read this volume through, or nearly so. On the India of the Vedas, of the Brahmas, and of the Buddhists, Mr. Wheeler throws a strong light, in a style which never wearies one and never seems to lose in any partisan view the thread of philosophical thought or inquiry."
Our Own Correspondent, Times.

SERIAL ISSUE OF THE FOUR GOSPELS, with M. BIDA'S ILLUSTRATIONS.

Messrs. CASSELL, PETTER & GALPIN will issue, in MONTHLY PARTS, PRICE 4s. each,

THE FOUR GOSPELS,

WITH THE MAGNIFICENT ETCHINGS ON STEEL, AFTER THE DRAWINGS BY M. BIDA.

PART I. ready OCTOBER 26, price 4s.

The Etchings contained in this Work have been made under the direction of M. ED. HEDOUIN, by the most eminent living Artists, amongst whom we may name MME. HENRIETTE BROWNE, MM. BIDA, BODMER, BRACQUEMOND, CHAPLAIN, DEHLON, FLAMENG, L. GAUCHERET, GILBERT, E. GIRARDET, HAUSOULLIER, ED. HEDOUIN, MASSARD, MOUTILLON, CELESTIN, NANTEUIL, VEYRASSET, &c.

The Drawings, Etchings, and Engravings have been twelve years in preparation, and an idea of the importance of this splendid Work may be gathered from the fact that upwards of FIFTY THOUSAND POUNDS have been expended on its production.

The EDITION, now about to be issued in Monthly Parts, will be for 10 size (17 x 12½ in.), and will contain ONE HUNDRED and THIRTY-TWO STEEL ETCHINGS, and in addition some very exquisite Wood-cut Ornaments.

THE REVIEW DES DEUX MOIS concludes an elaborate criticism of this work, occupying 32 pages, in words of which the following is a translation:—

"This work will rank side by side with the masterpieces bequeathed to us by former ages. Many a bibliophile in admiring M. Bida's ingenious, varied, and charming compositions, will be reminded of the words of Father Lelong, in commendation of the Bible published in 1540 by Robert Estienne: 'OPUS SÆPE IN ARTE TYPOGRAPHICA, SI UNQUAM FUIT, PERFECTUM.'"

From the Official Programme of the Vienna Exhibition.

"We have to-day seen one of the most remarkable Works that will be exhibited at the Vienna Exhibition, and which is certainly the most absolutely perfect one in the section to which it belongs. It is 'The Four Gospels,' illustrated after drawings by M. Bida. This Work is certainly one of the most beautiful and complete things in the way of books that we have ever seen, as much on account of its artistic value as of the superiority of the finish of all its details, the perfection of which is such that it will surely be a cause of delight and admiration to all who can really appreciate the highest kind. All the large Illustrations have been designed by M. Bida, who, being as it were inspired with the religious sentiment emanating from the subject he had to deal with, has here shown in a higher degree the brilliant artistic qualities for which he was already remarkable, and whom this beautiful Work will cause to rank side by side with those great masters who have immortalised in art the records of Christianity."

FROM THE TIMES.

"M. Bida entered upon a hard task when he set himself to design original illustrations for 'The Four Gospels.' It was necessary that he should endeavour not to tread in the footsteps of Italian religious art, but to invent his own style, and to do so he had to draw on the works of great masters. The cartoons of Raphael, especially, were so many lions in his path, and how should he dare to draw a 'Crucifixion' or an 'Ecce Homo'? M. Dore might dare, but then M. Dore has a marvellous imagination, and ensures originality by introducing everywhere the grotesque, over which he has such a wonderful command. M. Bida's illustrations preserve throughout the pure tone of religious feeling, and his art has thus the disadvantage of provoking direct comparison with the art of the great Italian painters. The illustrations of this work are, indeed, nearly all figure pictures. M. Bida knows his strength, and gives us but few landscapes. What can be better than the bold foreground, grouped with figures bashed with light, in the drawing of the Sermon on the Mount? Of the art of grouping M. Bida is a master, and there is neither monotony nor uncouth variety in the manner in which he peoples his drawings. His figures are disposed with a subdued effectiveness, always as if striking a chord in the finest and most powerful of all his drawings is, to our mind, that of Jesus seated by the sea, the grandeur and pathos of solitude being well expressed in the single figure musing by the waters. We now take leave of this magnificent publication, declaring again that it is extraordinarily various, subtle, and skilful."

FROM THE STANDARD.

"There is not one of the plates that is not a study, and there are several of them that, touching the tenderest ground, yet do not disappoint the loftiest expectations. To all lovers of sacred art we most cordially commend these magnificent specimens of high art in its holiest phase."

FROM THE ATHENÆUM'S "Notes from Paris."

"To a celebrated French designer, M. Bida, belong the illustrations, which stand apart from the text. Before commencing this work, destined to be the principal achievement of his life, M. Bida travelled in Palestine, and drew on the spot the landscapes, the types, the costumes, which have scarcely altered in nineteen centuries, for the East is a vast conservatory of unchangeable things. The 128 plates, which he has produced in one year, will to 1870 form a veritable Gospel gallery. They have been etched by our best artists, under the direction of M. Edmond Hédonin, a good painter, an excellent engraver, the most tasteful and conscientious of men."

FROM THE SATURDAY REVIEW.

"No one who sees these two magnificent volumes can be surprised that M. Bida should have won so great a reputation by his illustrations of the Bible. This clever draughtsman brings to his work special advantages, trained in the school of Delacroix, his style is picturesque and powerful; his conceptions seize the spectator by surprise through their daring originality. Unlike the cold forms of M. Ingres, and the serene aspirations of M. Ary Scheffer, these designs have warmth, passion, and tumult. This great French designer, in common with our countryman, Mr. Holman Hunt, has made his familiar acquaintance with the actual scenes described in the sacred narrative; hence his drawings are imbued with local character and colour. Not only are they accurate transcripts of costumes, but the vegetation is true, as if studied on the spot, and the atmosphere glows as with Oriental heat and life."

Prospectuses and Specimens of Bida's Four Gospels may be seen at all Booksellers.

FOURTH EDITION.

MR. GLADSTONE on RITUALISM.

Now ready, the Fourth Edition of the

CONTEMPORARY REVIEW

FOR OCTOBER.

CONTAINING

RITUALISM AND RITUAL. By the Right Hon. W. E. GLADSTONE.
LAGRANGE AND HEGEL. By George H. LEWES.
CHARLES I. AND HIS FATHER. By PETER BAYNE.
THE PHILOSOPHY OF THE PURE SCIENCES. By Professor CLIFFORD.
CAPITAL: MR. MILL'S FUNDAMENTAL PROPOSITION. By GOVERNOR MUGRAVE, South Australia.
THE DEIFICATION OF ST. PAUL. By JAMES FERGUSON.
CONTEMPORARY EVOLUTION. By ST. GEORGE MIVART.
REVIEW OF OBJECTIONS TO "LITERATURE AND DOGMA." By MATTHEW ARNOLD.

"To appreciate Mr. Gladstone's remarkable paper properly it must be read in extenso."—The Times, Sept. 28.

"Mr. Gladstone's article on 'Ritualism and Ritual' is a brilliant survey of the existing state of things in the Anglican Church. There are a gravity, an openness, and a candour in the description which cannot but win. Some thousand clergymen, and we know not how many thousands of their congregations, will hail it as the first drop of comfort they have had for many a day."—The Times, Sept. 29.

"Mr. Gladstone's essay deals with the subject exhaustively, and contains many new and important suggestions. His views will be recognised as those of a great statesman."—The Daily Telegraph, Sept. 28.

"These words of Mr. Gladstone, which have the true ring of English Protestantism, and which embody the notions which are firmly rooted in the national mind, will be welcomed in every parish throughout the land."—The Morning Post, Sept. 28.

"Mr. Gladstone has written a remarkable paper on Ritualism in the October Number of The Contemporary Review. It has greatly pleased and surprised us, and given us a totally different impression of the writer's mind, and of his faith as a Churchman."—The Morning Advertiser, Sept. 28.

"We have quoted largely from Mr. Gladstone's Article, but we have done little more than indicate its general tone. It must be read line by line in The Contemporary to be fully appreciated."—The Scotsman, Sept. 28.

"Mr. Gladstone's paper must be read by everyone who takes more than a superficial interest in one of the most stirring questions of the day."—The Manchester Examiner, Sept. 28.

"The Contemporary Review for October contains a remarkable article upon 'Ritualism and Ritual' from the pen of Mr. Gladstone. It will be read with extraordinary eagerness and attention, and will repay both. We give some extracts in another page, but earnestly advise our readers to peruse the whole in The Contemporary Review."—The Guardian, Sept. 30.

THE LETTER BOOK of SIR AMIAS POULET, Keeper of Mary Queen of Scots, Edited by Rev. JOHN MORRIS, S.J.

"Father Morris has done his best, in an able and careful manner, towards illustrating the minutiae of Mary's captivity under the guardianship of Sir Amias Poulet. He has performed his work in a way that the most practised editor of old documents need not be ashamed of."—Athenaeum, June 13, 1874.

"In the volume before us are published for the first time a number of letters of Sir Amias, which were preserved by his descendants, and are now deposited in the Bodleian Library. Many of these are highly interesting, and Mr. Morris has done good service to the cause of historical truth in placing them before the public. Mr. Morris has both ably and honestly performed his duty as editor of these interesting letters. He is thoroughly acquainted with the history of the period."

Mr. Hosack, in the Academy, July 4, 1874.
"These interesting letters, many of which have been hitherto unknown, throw much light on that part of the captivity of Mary Stuart which was passed under the rigorous keeping of Sir Amias Poulet. Mr. Morris deserves the thanks of those students of history who prefer plain facts to picturesque fiction, for publishing these very important letters. In editing them he has done his work with great exactness and impartiality."—Saturday Review, Sept. 27, 1874.
